SLAUGHTERING DEER OUT OF SEASON.

FREQUENT REPORTS OF VIOLATED GAME LAWS-MERRY TIMES AT VARIOUS RE-

SORTS-NEW GUESTS. Emzabethlown N, Y., Aug. 1 (Special).—The dispractice of slaughtering deer out of season in the Adirondacks is followed more reconsty than aver before. One reason is that the deer are numerous. A novice at deer shooting can now secure game certainly and easily, and not a few novices are entered willing to violate the law and kill the deer by fair means or foul. So many visitors appear heartly desirons to shoot deer out of season that it is hard for a hunter who is inclined to observe the law to resist doing what less scrupulous people seek. law to resist doing what less scrupulous people seek to do. Plenty of instances of illegal deer-killing have presented themselves to the writer during the month of July-enough to warrant a most thorough investigation by the authorities charged with the duty of arresting violators of the law. No arrests have been reported, however, and almost within earshot of the hotels rifles have sent death to noble bucks, and no one knows how many mother deer. During the week a guide openly bragged of finding a deer swimming in Saranae River within five miles of the rail-This miscrable man threw a rope over the animal's head and beat its brains out club. The carcass was drawn into a boat, covered with a blanket, and delivered to a purchaser at Saranac Lake. There is an idea of chivalry among these men of the woods that a violator of the lav shall never suffer from their convicting testimony. This may be the manly view to take of the matter On the other hand, is it manly to slaughter semitame deer out of season, and to follow them with hounds two months before it is legal to do so? ravenous are illegal visiting hunters that they do not hesitate to hill as many deer as they can get within range of. There have been so many decaying deer carcasses along Bog River within a month past that the stench has been repulsive to people passing

The acquisition of large tracts of land by wealthy men and the proposal to exclude sportsmen from these eserves are exciting a feeling of serious discontent in the minds of the hundreds of North Woods guides They regard the establishment of hunting preserves as a practical extermination of their many among them have a revengeful feeling such as might lead them to try and spoil the hunting and injure the fishing. In all probability if the extensive private park plans are realized, the guides will be needed in some lucrative capacity then, as now. Ex-Minister to Turkey Isidore Strans arrived a Saranae Lake on Wednesday.

Paul Smith's house is well filled. Next Tuesday the charity ball will be given there. On August 14, the fair in behalf of the Adirondack Cottage sanifarium promises to be a brilliant success. Prominent ladies from leading cities are working earnestly for large reccipts. This sanitarium has a world-wide reputation. Dr. Trudeau and others have devoted much time and money to make this institution of value to consumptives, and have thereby frequently aided patients who could not otherwise have s the proper climate or the skilful treatment needed in attempts to arrest the disease. It is enough to say that Dr. Trudeau has obtained results such as have been obtained nowhere else.

Manager Martin, of the Mirror Lake House, Lake Placid, says he has reserved a fine suite of rooms for Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

Hotel Ampersand has another tennis tournament in hand. It is proposed to offer a $100 silver cup as a prize. A rifle match next week and a baseball match are proposed entertalnments. Saranac Lake guests are heartly desirous of a victory over the ball-players at Paul Smith's. The latter hold the honors thus far.

Penn Charter Camp is one of the features of Lower the camp, and entertains delightfully a party of Philadelphia young men and other friends. There are with him Mr. Pierce, Mr. Harris, Messrs, Sinnickson, Messrs Rosengarten, Messrs, Woolman, Mrs. M. C. Stanley W. Rockwell, Miss Brown and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pickett.

Lenox, Mass., August 1 (Special).—Great blazing wood fires in the cottages have kept the cottagers from being uncomfortable during the cold weather of the present week. This extreme cold is unusual in July in this region. It is rare that Lenox, situated as it is, 1,400 feet above the level of the sea, experiences such low temperature as has recently prevailed.

The cottagers have been comparatively quiet this week so far as large entertainments are concerned, although there have been several small dinner parties, conching parties and tennis playing. The weather has been especially adapted to this latter sport, and to driving.

The young people have devoted more hours to tennis this week than any previous week during the season. The young Indies have been seen out on the couris of Pr. Greenleaf, the Braems, John E. Parsons, William D. Sloane, while the tennis players of the Lenox Club have kept their three or four courts lively every pleasant day during the week.

The ladies have already begun to plan for their tub parade, which will be quite as elaborate this season as last, when it was considered particularly successful. By the time of the tub parade the Telford system of Saranne Lake. It consists of a number of tents and plearing will be completed on the main streets, so that plearing buildings on the end of HoSby Island. It will be much more enjoyable than in previous years, gives in Berlin. George H. Cook, the Bracklyn rea s. B. Lawrence, an old-time visitor to the woods, owns when the mud has been so deep as to interfere with the affair.

It is proposed to spend $60,000 to build a new town hall. The cottagers are much interested in this, especially men like Colonel Anchmuty, who has a residence here. All the cottagers who pay taxes ar favorable to the project. A special town meeting will be held on August 8 to determine what shall be done in the matter. The new building will be a great addition to the centre of the town.

Frederick Gebhard has leased the Judge Rockwell place for the rest of the season. He is delighted with Lenox, and will probably entertain considerably in the the Club Cottage, which is occupied by his sister, Mrs.

Mrs. Frank Sturgis has one of the finest turnouts seen on the street. She drives a fine pair of iron-gray horses attached to a victoria. Mrs. Ganson, of Enflato, who is occupying the Jones cottage this season, is also one of the finest of drivers. Mrs. A. R. shattuck handles the reins with skill over a pair of fine horses.

Miss Carey and Miss Rotch gave a charming dinne party on Monday evening in honor of their guest, Mrs Carey, who was eighty years old on that day. Among the guests were Colonel and Mrs. Auchmuty, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lawrence, and Mr. and Mrs. Robeson, A dinner party was given by Mrs, Charles L. Colby on Monday evening, when a dozen or more cottager Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloane went to Bar Harbon on Friday, where they will remain during the greater part of the month of August.

Mrs. Charles Lanier entertained the Archery Club on Thursday afternoon. As the season advances the shooting with the bow grows more interesting and the young ladies are getting up a spirited competition for the autumn prizes. Mrs. James L. Barelay is in Newport for a few weeks. Mr. Barclay is yet here. Mrs. Barclay's health is nearly restored, atthough she still suffers somewhat from the effects of being thrown from her horse last fall

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hoffman have arrived fr Enrope and will spend some weeks with Mr. and M W. B. Shattuck. The Shattucks were with the Ho mans during the winter at their home in England. mans during the winter at their nome in England.

NOTES OF A BRILLIANT SEASON-PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Stamford, Aug. 1 .- So much has been said about this pretty village as a summer resort and it is becoming so well known that little need be added in this column. The Tribune was among the first to predict the great popularity of Stamford as a summer abode, and it is easant to add that nowhere else in the Catskills does | F. H. North, New-York, this journal find so many daily readers and so many appreciative friends. The growth of the place during the last three years is simply astonishing. No other point the range has so many fine new hotels and beautiful cottages, and still there are rumors of more. Many are already full for the season and yet the visitors are coming in by every train. An advance note or telegram to the local hotel manager is now an excellent plan if you propose to occupy a room; as I found on eaching Churchill Hall this evening without such notice. Vacant rooms for August will be very in Stamford, but there is always plenty to cat and to

The new railway station now nearing completion is nest, attractive and convenient. How the old structare escaped fire so many years is now a mystery to

S. B. Champion still edits and prints "The Mirror" every week, a badly Democratic, but newsy sheet. He is one of the Nestors of rural journalism. He ever sends a paper without pay in advance.

Viadmir de Pachman, the pianist, is at Churchill Hall, gathering strength for his approaching concert our. He seems highly pleased with the locality. Churchill Hall never before suffered so much for lack of room as already this season; house, annex and ottage full and now spilling over in private houses. The Rev. Dr. John Dixon, of Trenton, is here for August, with his family. Mrs. Dixon is a cousin of President Harrison. General R. S. Stockton and family, also of Trenton, have rooms for the season. The proprietor of the Grant House here will adopt the suggestion made in this column recently by changing the name of his fine resort that it shall not cor flet with the old Grant House at Catskill. He already has a fine company of guests, who are deighted with the place. The first formal hop at the St. Charles, Hunter, ook place to-night and was highly enjoyed by the guests and their friends. A fine collation was served during the evening and dancing ceased at 11:30. The clerk, Dr. G. F. Grover, of Brooklyn, was floor nanager, assisted by Clarence Rogers, of New-York. The first regular hop of the season on Overloo Mountain was a notable event there to-night. nusic was by a Kingston orchestra and the dancing rounded out the closing hours of the week in a pie ing way to the numerous guests there. Among the New-York people there are Matthew Clarkson and family. The August engagement list at the Overlook is large.

Manager Cornell, of the New Grand, says he is puzzled to find room for his guests. Every room is taken for August, and what to do with or where to put new applicants he cannot tell. Cots in the parlor are proscribed, and the dining-room is so needed for other use. But the plazzas are broad and President Carr, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, arrived there with his family to-day. Charles A. Gerlach, of the board of governors, is also there with his family. . Walter G. Schuyler, ex-president of the New-York Athletic Cab, is due on Tuesday. The annual tennis tournament for the Catskill

Mountain championship will soon begin on the New Grand courts, The "Blythewood" resort at Tannersville has just been purchased by M. Frank, of New-York. The Driving Park Association of that village has just sen incorporated with $4,000 capital in $10 shares. The season is still in full progress at Hotel Kuaterskill and life is gay at that brilliant resort. The artistic music of Myer's orchestra excels anything of the kind in the range and is greatly enjoyed by guests and visitors. There are three concerts daily except sunday, when suitable selections are given in the evening only. The Sunday dinners at the Kaaterskill are always notable triumphs of culinary skill. Frank II. Buy is now the steward and Weston Wells the waiter in chief. The house looks full for August. Prattsville resorts though at the end of a stage ride are overflowing with guests Summer life in Twilight Park is highly enjoyed by the numerous residents there. The following persons own cottages there, most of which are occusied by themselves and their families: New-Yorkers-Professor Benjamin E. Smith, cottage known as Ben-Rev. J. Newport, R. I., Aug. 1 (Special) .- Newport expects to make a good record in August and should nothing at present unforeseen occur it will be a memorable month. July and June were unusually dull months for the tradesmen and for others. Sofial events will be unusually numerous in August. There will be a three days' flower show at the Casino, and a subscription ball and amateur theatricals at the same place. will be given by Mrs. F. W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, Mrs. John W. Ellis and possibly by others, who have not as yet decided on dates. Receptions, and large ones, too, will also be numerous, and smaller entertainments have been arranged by scores of the cottagers. The yacht squadron expected early next week will tend to enliven the place, and the races will attract general attention. The harbor will indeed present an attractive appearance and business will be unusually lively at the hotels and

The drag-hunting season, although opened with good weather, is not attracting any special attention from the persons who were expected to subscribe about $1,500 for the support of the sport. No arrangements have been made for th opening of the polo season. The players amuse themselves every pleasant afternoon at practice games. The business men have taken no steps toward offer ing a cup to be salled for by the yachts of the New-York Squadron. A successful hop took place at the Ocean House tonight, and the attendance at the Casino dance last night was satisfactory. The Casino dances up to Monday night had been tame affairs, but now that the ice is broken there will be no difficulty in drawing . crowd.
